

NextGen Oklahoma Leaders AMBASSADOR'S ORIENTATION

Oklahoma History Center, January 13, 2018

NextGen Oklahoma Leaders Ambassadors help plan how to engage their generation in building the future of Oklahoma from a Millennial's perspective.

Ambassadors are selected from NextGen Under 30 alumni and from interested supporters who attend Next Gen Oklahoma Leaders workshops and retreats. Ambassadors also have key roles in workshops and the annual award ceremony.

Dan Provo, Director of the Oklahoma Museum of History, welcomes the NextGen Oklahoma Ambassadors.

Garland McWatters, Director of Leadership Events, explains the Ambassador program.

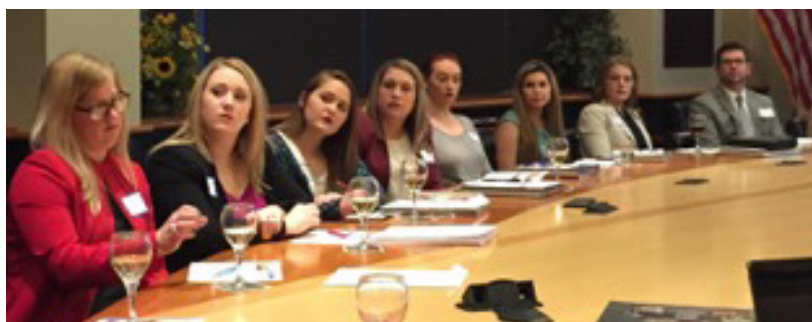

Tyler Laughlin, Deputy Commissioner at the Oklahoma Insurance Commission, introduces himself. Patrick Conlon, Asst. Director of the Academy of Contemporary Music listens.

Dr. Melissa Brevetti of Langston University introduces herself. Kara Byrd, Director of Imagine Durant, looks on.

L-R: Nicole McGarry, Continental Resources, OKC; Anna Raney, Roderick H. Polston, OKC; Meg Weinkauff, LaunchPad Labs, Tulsa.

L-R: Macey Barber, AtLink WiFi; Joy Moon, Chickasaw Nation Ada; Jaylea Thompson, Vision Bank, Ada; Susan Graham, PayCom; Kara Byrd, ImagineDurant; Dr. Melissa Brevetti, Langston Univ.; Brooke Powell, Bank of Oklahoma; Jason Shepherd, Bancfirst, OKC.

MISSION
NEXTGEN
OKLAHOMA LEADERS

To inspire and to encourage the next generation of leaders to best utilize their talents and creative energy to improve Oklahoma's families, workplaces, and communities.